Dear Jack:

I have read your book and appreciate it as both good reading and as good inspiration for any man faced with a problem. It should be good material for our young officers.

TAT
There is a young Marine, graduate U.S.N.A., 1960, [redacted] interest. I'm sure he'd find it enjoyable and profitable. This young man had an excellent record at Crabtown and I'm confident that the Marine Corps will one day have reason to be proud of him. His name: [redacted]
[redacted]

TAT
I would be honored - and I'm sure he would be - to have an autographed copy. So I'm presuming to ask that you autograph one for me and one for him, returning both to me. I'll send his on to Okinawa.

TAT
Incidentally, [redacted] was my student at Randolph Field, so I taught him to fly - I think did a good job; his tragic death - due as I remember to running into bad weather while on a bond selling tour - to the contrary notwithstanding.

Mauns

Again, let me say that I still have no apologies concerning our respective roles in our recent experience. You did your best - which was superb. The recent Time article (and the longer one in Fortune), I do not think are in the best U. S. interest, and I do not know the sources for them. Personally, I've followed rigidly my early determination to talk to no one.

In any event, I appreciate our association together and would be glad to have it renewed under any circumstances.

Best wishes and thank.

Sincerely,

SIGNED
